

ACTIVATION DATES FOR ACTIVE ECLIPSES IN 2016

© Malvin Artley 2016

The following are the eclipses and their activation dates for 2016. 2016 was quite a violent year, as will be shown below. This is not wholly unexpected, due to major offensives underway in Syria and Iraq in efforts to dislodge Daesh, as well as continuing extremist activities in Africa. There were over 300 major terrorist and military incidents, in which over 10 people were killed, and many more smaller events. With the Neptune activations at the end of the year there were marked incidents aimed at subverting peace accords. All events are referenced in the endnotes. There were a total of 19 eclipses in effect for this year, not including the new ones. The first half of the year up to July was marked almost solely by Mars activations. However, from the end of 2015 through to 9 Jan this year Saturn finished an eclipse (1 Jun 2011). It finished another eclipse (4 Jun 2012) from 21 Jan – 16 Feb—really, until mid-May. It then stationed just past that eclipse and then retrograded back over (see times below), so in effect it was on that eclipse for several months. This period was marked in the activation dates by Saturn inclusive along with the Mars and other dates. Pluto squared an eclipse point with Uranus in a distant opposition in January. So, the first few months of 2016 were quite restive. From the first part of July through to almost the end of August there was a Uranus activation of an eclipse. The period from September through to the end of the year was particularly active since there was an eclipse on 1 Sep 16 and it was activated by Neptune for the remainder of the year. In addition, there was a Saturn activation of an eclipse in that period as well as the regular Mars activations. Thus, the second half of the year signaled a greater likelihood of events, such as was seen in the first few months of the year. The activation dates listed are for Mars unless otherwise indicated. The new eclipses for the year are in the following table. The chronological dates for the other eclipse activations follow the table. Where charts are available for viewing, the event is highlighted in bold italics and blue text. Click on the text to view the chart.

2016 Eclipses
Date	Degree	Mars dates	Eclipse details
9 Mar 16	19♃♄		Total solar eclipse. Jupiter is opposite the eclipse point with Saturn forming a t-square with them.
23 Mar 16	3 ♁♃		Lunar appulse eclipse
18 Aug 16	26♁♃	14 Dec 16	Lunar appulse eclipse
1 Sep 16	9♄♃	31 Dec 16	Solar annular eclipse. Neptune is opposite the eclipse point
16 Sep 16	24♃♄		Lunar appulse eclipse. Mars forms a t-square with the eclipse axis.

The eclipse of 1 Sep 16 is shown below and this one is very similar to an eclipse we had in the year 2000. The latter eclipse marked the planning stages of al-Qaeda for the bombing of the USS Cole and the 9/11 attacks, among others. See the 2000 Eclipse document for further details. We can see from the 1 Sep 16 eclipse that Neptune is transiting retrograde opposite the eclipse point at the time of the eclipse, which is a solar eclipse and with a Mars/Saturn conjunction forming a t-square with the eclipse/Neptune opposition. In addition, that square forms the base of a 'hard triangle' configuration with Uranus at the apex, marking this as a potentially dangerous period (which it was), full of unexpected changes, plans made behind the scenes, badly-placed decisions, deception and so forth. It can also indicate a highly revelatory time in areas such as science and technology. The more nefarious elements showed themselves after Neptune turned direct on 20 Nov 16 and especially after the exact opposition with the eclipse point on 10 Dec 16. Lastly, the eclipse was conjunct the dwarf planet Orcus, which can appear to be very punishing in its effects. This, along with the Saturn activation of another eclipse, marked a very memorable time in history.
